POPE

Is Not Expected to Live More Than a Few Hours.

Another Operation Took Place at Rome Today.

The Prelate Expresses a Desire to Die and Says He Has No Fear of Death—News of Death May Be Held for Several Hours.

London, July 10.—A late Rome dispatch quotes Prof. Mazzoni as declaring at 2 o'clock this afternoon that the crisis in the Pope's condition was fast approaching. The pleural cavity, he said, was refilling with surprising rapidity. Prof. Mazzoni does not believe that the Pope will live beyond midnight tonight.

Rome, July 10.—Before today's operation was performed the Pope said to his doctors: "Tell me the truth. I have no fear of death and would be happy for release."

When the physicians tried to reassure him His Holiness stopped them, saying, "I understand. You are, however, giving me no consolation as my greatest desire is heavenly rest. I am so tired."

Washington, July 10.—It is said at the Papal legation that the news of the death of the Pope will likely be held up at Rome for several hours until official notification of the fact can be made by cable to the heads of the governments throughout the world. Not until after the messages are all sent, it is stated, will formal announcement of the demise of the holy father be issued to the public at Rome.

POPE SAT UP.

Rome, July 10.—While today's operation was proceeding the Pope's nephews, the ambassadors of Austria, Portugal and Spain and 14 cardinals were in an adjoining room. When the doctors entered the bed chamber they found the Pope sitting in his chair. They made him go to bed. The prelate willingly obeyed them, but as soon as the operation was over he wanted to see the cardinals who were in the adjoining apartment. This the physicians would not permit.

CONDITION SERIOUS.

Paris, July 10.—Cardinal Rampolla this afternoon telegraphed the Uncio as follows:
"The Pope's condition continues serious. Pray earnestly."

STOOD OPERATION WELL.

Rome, July 10.—The operation this morning was performed by Mazzoni, while Rossini watched the patient's pulse. His Holiness stood the operation well, with the exception that he complained of weakness of the stomach. After the serum had been removed Rossini took it for examination at the medical laboratory. The serum was the same color as that removed at the first operation.

One good symptom noticed this afternoon was that the cyanosis of the prelate's hand and feet had nearly disappeared.

CARDINALS TO SEE POPE.

Rome, July 10.—Some of the windows of the Pope's apartments were opened at 5:45 this morning to give a further access of air to the sick room. Other windows including that of the quarter of an hour later. The Populo Romana says three of the cardinals now in Rome will be admitted each day to see the Pope.

TODAY'S OPERATION.

Rome, July 24.—The relief afforded by the second operation is expected to prolong the holy father's life at least for 24 hours. At the end of that time another operation will probably be necessary. Whether his holiness will be able to stand another puncture is doubtful. In the meantime his strength is simply wearing out. Optimism now exists only among a few of the Pope's most devoted attendants who have previously seen their optimism so often justified. They have faith that Leo will continue to live.

NO HOPE OF RECOVERY.

Rome, July 10.—Dr. Rossini after the operation on the Pope declared that the prelate's mind is so clear and keen that the most experienced physician might easily be misled as to the gravity of the patient's condition. He believes however, that there is no hope for recovery.

OPERATION

On the Pope Today—Patient Stood it Well—Bulletin Issued This Noon.

Rome, July 10.—This morning found the anxiety regarding the Pope in no way abated but rather increased. Reports emanating from the sick room during the night were far from favorable and indicated that the last hope was practically gone. This anxiety was accentuated during the morning hours when the time for the regular morning bulletin came and passed and still no word was received from his holiness's physicians. Many feared that the end had come inasmuch as it was generally known that a second operation was contemplated and it was feared the weakness of the prelate was too great to stand the strain. Finally at noon the bulletin appeared. The bulletin was couched in plain words and it stated that the Pope had stood the operation well. The bulletin this noon read:

"The Pope's condition during the first part of the night was peaceful but his breathing was uneasy and he had a feeling of oppression. His pulse was weak the rate being 92. It was decided to extract the bloody serum and 1000 grammes were taken away. The patient stood the second operation very well. His breathing at once became easier and his heart action was also improved. Signed Rossini, Lapponi and Mazzoni."

The bulletin was read with avidity and while it again caused optimism among some of his holiness' most devoted attendants who had previously seen their optimism so often justified and who have a blind faith that the Pope will continue to live, the general belief was that a short time, a day or so at the most, would see the final chapter in the story of the illustrious life.

Considerable surprise was expressed at the amount of serum abstracted. The prelate is but a shadow of a man physically owing to his old age and many illnesses and when it is considered that 1000 grammes of serum (weight two pounds) it can readily be seen that the operation was not by any means an unimportant one. There is always the chance of course, that the wonderful vitality of the prelate will again work with the relief afforded by the removal of the serum and cause another rally. It is feared, however, that such a rally could not last for over twenty-four hours at the most and that the serum would then collect and necessitate another operation. In such a case the Pope could hardly survive as each relapse means a further wearing away of the vitality which is gradually decreasing and must soon disappear altogether when the end is bound to come.

together when the end is bound to come.

In addition to this gradual wearing away of his strength, there is the indomitable will of the Pope to be considered. Whenever he feels slightly stronger he insists on performing some of the duties of his office and this over exertion militates strongly against his recovery.

APPEAL

To Supreme Justice Made by Attorneys of Rhea, Indiana Boy Sentenced to Die.

Lincoln, Neb. July 10.—William Rhea convicted of murder and sentenced to die on the gallows within the walls of the Nebraska penitentiary today, seems destined, after all, to escape the hangman's noose. For weeks Rhea's attorneys, their interest being inspired by relatives of the condemned man living in Indiana, have appealed to Governor Mickey to stop the execution and commute the sentence, but the executive has steadfastly refused to be moved by their entreaties. Wednesday night the Governor issued a public statement defining his reasons for declining to interfere with the decree of the Courts, and declaring his final determination to let the law take its course.

The refusal of the Governor to interfere forced the legal advisers of Rhea to take a new tack with the result that last night after a prolonged conference by a half dozen prominent attorneys who have interested themselves in the case, it is announced that a final appeal will be made to the Courts to stop the execution. The three members of the Supreme Court are all absent from the city, but Supreme Justice Sullivan, who resides in Columbus, was consulted by long distance telephone and agreed to come to Lincoln early in the morning to consider what Rhea's advisers have to present.

Chief Justice Sullivan will not reach the city until almost noon. The hanging has been fixed for noon, leaving a margin of two hours for interference by Justice Sullivan in case he sees fit, but in order to preclude the possibility of a delay in the Chief Justice's train Warden Beemer has been sounded and has pledged himself not to proceed with the execution until Rhea has been given the last chance for his life. The application which will be made in Rhea's behalf will be jointly for a writ of habeas corpus and a writ of injunction to prevent the execution of the death sentence.

KNAPP TRIAL.

Hamilton, O. July 10.—The defense in the case of Alfred A. Knapp, on trial for wife murder, has rested. All of the testimony tended to sustain the insanity theory.

Prosecutor Gard will offer 20 witnesses in rebuttal including several doctors. Three were heard before court adjourned, and Knapp's fate will soon be known.

Yesterday abounded in incidents and the terrific heat and the strain of the trial at one time transformed the court room into a veritable hospital. Knapp's sister, Mrs. Edward King, collapsed with heart trouble just as she was finishing her testimony, and had to be carried from the room.

At the same time Lawyer Darby, who was prostrated Tuesday, and barely able to be present faintly again and was revived by restoratives.

Some of the jurors fear they cannot withstand the ordeal much longer. A novel feature of the morning was the introduction of an almanac to show that there was a change of the moon on the night of the murder. The defense claim this affected Knapp's diseased brain.

Albert Shellengager, a liveryman; Dr. O. H. McHenry and William Harper were called in an effort to upset William Jefferson's testimony that Knapp on December 21 ordered a wagon for the next day, but failed to aid the defense.

Joe Breker the last witness for the defense, said Knapp told him he was a circus clown drawing $100 per week. Mr. and Mrs. William Sterrett and John Lenehan in rebuttal testified that they thought Knapp sane.

Out of every 1,000 pounds of beef consumed in Great Britain in 1901, 700 pounds was home produced, reports the United States Consul at Nottingham.

ACTION MIGHT CAUSE EMPIRE TO FALL.

NEW PREMIER ISSUES REPORT.

Archduke Ferdinand is Much Hated— The Conditions Have Become Absolutely Chaotic.

Vienna, July 10.—It is now definitely stated that Emperor Francis Joseph intends to abdicate. Rumors of this intention have been spread frequently ever since the suicide of Crown Prince Rudolph, but this time the information comes from a source which is considered absolutely reliable. In fact, it comes from the new Hungarian Prime Minister, Count Khuen Hedevar.

The conditions in the Austrian empire have during the last few years become absolutely chaotic. The empire is composed of numerous different nationalities, hating one another most bitterly, and there has never been a month, hardly even a day, without reports of revolutionary movements in some parts of the empire.

Emperor Francis Joseph has ruled all these different people with a master hand. He has always been just, always acting only after the most careful consideration, and no one has ever, even during times of the greatest excitement, said one word against the person of this monarch, who is loved and respected by every one of his subjects.

Evidently the storm has become too much for the aged Emperor, whose life work it has been to try to awaken love for the common fatherland in the bosoms of his heterogeneous subjects. For many years he has tried to build up an empire where all strife, all national jealousy should have been forgotten, but without success.

Francis Joseph knows that the empire may go to pieces if he gives the active power into other hands. He knows the heir presumptive is hated and held in contempt by the whole nation; that he is wholly unworthy of the high dignity which comes to him by accident. But the Emperor is worn out; he has been heartbroken ever since the day when Empress Elizabeth, the love of his youth and mother of his dead son, was assassinated by the anarchist Luccheni five years ago.

Lately the Hungarians have become too unruly, and even the old Emperor's authority has failed to quiet them, and when the new Hungarian prime minister told the Emperor that he saw no other way of restoring order in the kingdom than by dissolving the Hungarian parliament, Francis Joseph flatly refused to take any such step.

"Count Hedevar," the Emperor said, "when many years ago the double crown of the empire was put upon my head, I swore a holy oath that I would under all circumstances respect our constitution. There have been many times when temptation to use violent means has been very strong, but I have always remembered my solemn oath, and now, feeling the burden of the crown pressing heavily upon me, I still remember this oath, and I will keep it now, as I have always kept it before. But I will say this, if order cannot be restored in Hungary within two weeks; if the people will not respect my wish to see peace reign throughout the empire, then I have made up my mind to abdicate."

The aged monarch spoke these words with an expression which left no doubt of his sincerity. Those who know him say he is determined to keep his word. That he has not abdicated before is because he considers it his duty to remain. Personally he wishes nothing more than rest.

The Emperor's threatening words have produced an unprecedented effect in Hungary. Everywhere there is the greatest excitement. There is not the slightest doubt in the mind of any one that the abdication would mean revolution and anarchy.

Archduke Franz Ferdinand, who, in case of the Emperor's abdication, would succeed Francis Joseph, is even more hated in Hungary than in other parts of the empire, and his life would not be safe if he would show himself there.

All the parties, therefore, who really care for the welfare of the country have laid aside small disagreements and misunderstandings in an effort to prevent the terrible results which would necessarily follow if the Emperor should carry out his intention.

INSANE MAN

Who Shot and Killed His Father, Dr. Dixon, is Now a Victim of Smallpox.

Canal Dover, July 10.—Bert Dickson, the insane man, who shot to death his father, Dr. James Dickson, ex-County Coroner, has developed a case of smallpox. Dr. Dickson was suffering from smallpox at the time of the murder. His son was considered mentally unbalanced, but was at liberty until a quarantine was placed around the house on account of the father's affliction. He has been chained to the floor since that time. He was disinfected, and the house was thoroughly fumigated, but the disease developed several days ago.

LAMB TO DIE

On the Altar and Oriental Rites will Mark the Dedication of the New Jerusalem Building.

St. Louis, July 12.—The dedication of the New Jerusalem building at the World's Fair grounds will be held Saturday afternoon with a ceremony never before witnessed in the United States. In addition to many Oriental rites a lamb will be sacrificed, and the foundation will be consecrated with the blood of the creature, oil, salt and incense.

The ceremony of laying the stone will be performed with ancient rites, assisted by 50 natives of Palestine, wearing Holy City costumes. Mules from Damascus for elders and judges; camels laden with stones, asses, the sacrificial lamb and other foreign representations.

The company will consist of the "wise master builder and assistant, stonecutters, laborers, water carriers, the Pasha, Cadi, mufti, katib scribe and interpreters, imam, rayis, I baladee, with slave attendants, string instrument players and singers, women, maidens and children.

After the slaughter of the lamb and the consecration bread and salt will be distributed and the natives will observe the dedication feast. The Fair Chorus of 150 voices will render the "Holy City," and a program of addresses by local clergymen has been arranged. The grounds will be thrown open and the public will be admitted free.

MIRACULOUS

Was the Escape of Coal Miner Clyde Wilson in the Davis Coal Mine Near Conesville.

Coshocoma, O. July 10.—Clyde Wilson had a miraculous escape from death in the Davis Coal Mines at Conesville yesterday. He returned too quickly after a powder blast and overcome by fumes, fell unconscious. Another blast covered him with coal. His fellow workmen rushed back at the risk of their lives, and after 10 minutes' work uncovered him. They expected to find his mangled corpse, but two large chunks of coal had bridged him and he was unharmed.

HOT IN PITTSBURG.

Pittsburg, Pa. July 10.—Seven deaths and a dozen cases of prostration were reported to the health bureau for the past 24 hours. The highest temperature recorded was 91. The excessive heat continues today.

Marion, Ind. July 10.—Barney O'Brien broke the world's automobile record for a mile on a half mile course here yesterday. His time was 1:16 2-5, all while some are dead.

Five Men Disappear in the Wreck

THREE ENGINES AND CARS BUR- IED IN ARKANSAS RIVER.

NEAR CANON CITY, COLORADO.

Two Killed and Thirty Injured In a Wreck This Morning at Madison, Ill.—The Casualties.

Canon City, Col., July 10.—(Bulletin)—Three engines and ten cars of a freight train have jumped from the Denver and Rio Grande track in the Royal Gorge and plunged into the Arkansas river, a sheer fall of 2,000 feet. The engines have not yet been found. Ten cars are also missing. The river is very deep and high, and the current rushes at a terrific speed. Three engineers, a fireman, and a brakeman have disappeared in the wreck. The accident took place near Hanging Bridge in the Royal Gorge, about six miles east of Canon City.

St. Louis, Mo., July 10.—Two people were killed and 25 or 30 hurt in a railroad accident at Madison, Ill., at 6:30 this morning. The train was the Union Terminal suburban, carrying people to work. The engine left the rails and plunged into the mud almost to its driving wheels. The coaches piled upon top, tearing up the track for sixty feet. One woman's head was crushed off between two cars. Almost everyone on the train of eight crowded coaches was hurt. One coach was full of women. Their hysterical screams and cries of agony were awful. Several of them proved themselves heroines, however, by attending to the wounds of those more seriously hurt, although cut and bruised themselves. A special train was made up and the dead and injured were hurried to St. Louis. At the hospitals it was said that several of the injured will die.

The dead are:
Alma Kirska, 18 years old; employed at the Neidringhaus' Stamping works, Madison; tried to jump through window; car fell over on head and shoulders and mangled her.

Prof Winter, employed at Neidringhaus works, sitting on coach steps had both legs cut off; died en route to the hospital.

A partial list of the injured follows:
Carrie Beck, aged 15; badly injured about body; taken home.
Annie Beck, 31; badly injured; taken home.
Ella Weatherby, 21; badly cut about head, face and body.
Five men at St. Mary's infirmary, unable to give their names.

BUTTE

Is Now the Rival of Sioux Falls in the Number of Divorces Granted—The Figures Given.

Butte, Mont., July 10.—More divorces were granted in Silver county for the fiscal year ending June 30, than in Sioux Falls, S. D., reputed Mecca for the divorce seeker. This information has just come to light in comparing the reports of the two places. There were 142 separations granted during the year ending June 30, against 134 for Sioux Falls. One and seven of these were granted to women and 34 to men.

TODAY'S OPERATION.

Rome, July 10.—Another operation on Pope Leo was performed this morning. More serum was extracted from about the lungs and his breathing became easier and his heart action was improved. It is believed at this time that the operation may prolong the Pope's life 24 hours.

DELEHANTY'S FUNERAL.

Buffalo, July 10.—The body of Ed Delehanty left here this morning for Cleveland where the funeral will take place. An effort will be made by his family to hold the Michigan Central railway responsible for his death as he was put off a train before he reached the destination his ticket called for.

TROOPS

Left Evansville This Morning Order Having Been Restored and Business Resumed.

Evansville, Ind., July 10.—The last of the state troops left Evansville this morning, it being thought unnecessary to keep them here longer. Everything is quiet. With the disappearance of the militia aspect of affairs is this. The people are settling down to their normal condition, business which has been practically suspended for several days, is resuming and there is little apprehensions of further trouble.

NEGRO CAMP

Raided by Mob in Texas and Blacks Fled—One Hundred Shots Were Fired.

Sour Lake, Tex., July 10.—A mob of 500 men last night raided two camps of negroes, one in the "Shoe String" district of the oil field, and the other composed of construction forces of the Southern Pacific.

The blacks fled precipitately. About 100 shots were fired. It is not known whether any of the negroes were killed or wounded as the shooting was in the darkness. One of the Mexicans in the construction gang had his head beaten into a pulp and will die.

Proprietors of hotels and restaurants have been warned to discharge all negroes in their employ. The cause of the outbreak was the shooting and fatally wounding of "Bud" Thompson, a brakeman on the Southern Pacific by a negro at Nomi Junction. Owing to public sentiment many negroes hastily left the city.

HOTTEST

Day of the Season in Cincinnati—The Prostrations Have Been Quite Numerous.

Cincinnati, July 10.—Today is the hottest day of the season in Cincinnati. The maximum temperature Thursday was ninety-five degrees, while the official temperature at ten o'clock today was ninety-four, which indicates that it will reach the ninety-eight mark before the day is over. Prostrations and several deaths have occurred.

SENT TO PEN.

St. Paul, Minn., July 10.—Fred W. Ames, former chief of police and brother of Mayor Ames, was taken to the penitentiary this morning to serve six, and a half years for "grafting" while in office.

POISONED CANDY

Was Given to Little Children Because Their Parents Were Jews--A Diabolical Scheme of Certain Russians.

VIENNA, July 10.—A diabolical scheme on the part of the anti-Semitic Russians to do away with their greatest antipathy, the Jews, has been disclosed at Gracow. Three of the Czar's subjects have been arrested there for distributing poisoned bonbons to Jewish children. When the men were arrested it was with great difficulty that the officers could defend their prison-ers from the infuriated Jews. Many of the children who ate the candies are

TEDIOUS

PART OF THE WORK IS AT BLACK HAND.

Rails Will Soon be Laid on West End of Newark-Zanesville Electric Road—Progress Made.

Zanesville, July 10—In the local offices of the Zanesville, Marietta & Parkersburg railway, and the Columbus, Newark and Zanesville Electric railway, the engineers are busy with the routine which devolves upon them while the work of construction is in progress.

On the latter road the work on the other end of the line is progressing rapidly and it is stated that within a very short time the road bed for many miles will be in condition to receive the ties and rails. The most tedious part of the construction work is perhaps encountered at the Black Hand tunnel. This will require some time for completion although day and night shifts of as many men as can be handled to advantage are at work there.

There has been much speculation as to whether the road would be in running order this summer and it is believed by many that in view of the long summer months yet to come and of the splendid start that has been made there is excellent prospect that cars will be running from this city to Newark and westward before Christmas.

BUILDERS

Who Attend State Meeting at Zanesville, Will be Well Entertained August 26-27.

Zanesville, O., July 10—The members of the Builders' Exchange held a meeting in the People's bank building to discuss the plans and to make preparations for entertaining the state convention of the association which is to meet here August 26 and 27.

The program for the two days is outlined as follows:

Wednesday morning, 9 o'clock business meeting.

Wednesday 2 p. m., business meeting.

Wednesday evening 7 o'clock, annual dinner.

Wednesday evening 9 o'clock, annual ball.

Thursday morning, 9 o'clock, business meeting.

Thursday afternoon, 1 o'clock, steamboat trip down the Muskingum.

EAGLES

Of Clay City Accept Invitation from Their Newark Brethren—Will Attend the Fair.

Zanesville, O., July 10—The local eagle of Eagles has accepted the invitation of the Newark Eagles to attend the street fair in that city next week and has designated July 22 as the day on which the members of the local eagle will go to the state convention at Columbus in a body.

The eagle will take Bauer's band along and will try to uncock enough enthusiasm to win next year's convention for this city.

In August the local Eagles will entertain delegations from Canton, Newark, Wheeling and Columbus at Camp Grey Eagle, which is the home of the houseboat. Grey Eagle, owned by the prince of Eagles, Former Chief of Police, Tracey.

LIGHTNING

Struck School House at Zanesville—Knocked Broom from a Woman's Hand—Severe Storm.

Zanesville, O., July 10—During a severe electrical storm that visited this city late Thursday afternoon lightning struck the handsome new Tenth ward school building and literally tore off the steeple and a large portion of the roof of the structure, along with a portion of one of the gables.

The brick and mortar were hurled clear across the street and onto the roof of the building occupied by the Dewey Cough company. T. J. Rarick, N. J. Rarick and Carl Wilcox were at work in the plant of the Dewey Cough company and narrowly escaped serious injury as some of the bricks fell through the roof of the building to the floor. Bricks were scattered in all directions.

The bolt that struck the school house, stunned Mrs. M. W. Hissey, wife of the well known Republican politician, and knocked the broom which she was using from her hand.

At 6 o'clock a second storm visited the city and was one of the most brilliant and at the same time terrifying electrical storms of the summer.

Rain fell for an hour or more in torrents and for a time the principal streets of the city resembled small rivers.

ENCAMPMENT

THE I. O. O. F. WILL MEET NEXT WEEK AT CAMBRIDGE.

Program Arranged by the Committee. Good Addresses and Drill a Feature.

Cambridge, O., July 10—The Ohio Grand Encampment I. O. O. F. will meet in Cambridge Tuesday and Wednesday, July 14 and 15. The representatives will come from every part of the state and besides them a goodly number of visitors are expected.

The following program has been arranged by the local committee for Tuesday. There will be a parade in the morning of the Grand Encampment officers and representatives, members of the local encampment and visiting Patriarchs of subordinate encampments, together with the Zanesville-Canton, a uniformed branch of the order. The column will form at Fifth street and Wheeling avenue and headed by the band will march north to Steubenville avenue, thence to East Eighth street, thence to Wheeling avenue and thence to I. O. O. F. temple, where it will counter-march and pass into the temple.

In the lodge room there will be an address of welcome on the part of the city by Mayor J. W. Smallwood and by Hon. H. W. Lucecock for the I. O. O. F. Response by Grand Patriarch Mudge. Everybody who wishes may attend these exercises.

Immediately after the address all persons will vacate the lodge room, except members of the Grand Encampment which body will then go into executive session. After the foregoing program the Zanesville-Canton is expected to give a drill on the street.

Tuesday evening Cambridge Encampment will confer the R. P. degree after which a fine supper will be served at the Methodist Protestant church by the ladies of that denomination to the members of the Grand Encampment, visiting patriarchs and members of the local encampment.

GAS FIELD

BIDS FAIR TO PRODUCE FUEL 20 OR MORE YEARS.

Extent of the Territory and Number of Acres Under Lease—Prices Paid to Farmers.

Utica, O., July 10—Mr. Harry E. Harris, who has made an exhaustive study of the Licking-Knox county gas field and who keeps thoroughly posted on the development of the big gas territory here has this to say:

Two dollars an acre for the lease of a farm of 150 acres near the line between Hartford and Bennington townships is reported—and three months ago that was considered to be six miles beyond the paying field. When the field was found to be six by twelve miles with a rock pressure of 780 pounds per inch it was declared by experts to be the greatest field of all. Then it was tested and proven to extend six miles further eastward, doubling its "greatness." Now with another six-mile strip added, on the westward, it seems to be almost inexhaustible. North and south from the infirmity two million well to the equally good ones about the Fry is 12 miles. East and west from the Brown to the Watson wells is 13 miles and on to the Croton oil wells is 8 miles further with nearly every acre intervening either leased or sought for at one to five dollars per acre. There are actually under lease or in shape to be leased nearly every acre in the townships of Burlington, Miller, Morgan and Washington, most of Bennington, a good share of Newton, and part of McKean, Liberty, Hartford, Milford, Pleasant and Clay. This is all in the Clinton rock field, and does not include the shallow wells driven in the Berea in the eastern part of Knox county.

Neither does it include the detached territory near Hebron, where Smith has two good wells in the Clinton sand. In the true Homer and Utica field alone there are approximately 150,000 acres either leased or leaseable at 50 cents to $5 per acre per year, none of it 50 cent land except the earliest leases. With the most rapid development that can be expected, it does not seem to be possible that the gas can be exhausted short of a score of years—perhaps twice that time with the care that is being used to avoid waste.

The Logan company is putting up a derrick on the J. K. Wright farm. The Logan well on the Cat place northwest of Homer, a mile north of the Butcher well, produces about a million feet a day.

The volume of the Utica-Sperry well has increased to two millions a day.

REMAINS

Of Miss Mollie Conklin Brought from St. Louis to Johnstown, O., for Interment.

Johnstown, O., July 10—The remains of Miss Mollie Conklin were brought here from St. Louis, Mo., for interment in the Green Hill cemetery. Miss Conklin was the daughter of David Conklin and wife who many years ago lived on the State road north of town. Her mother, Mrs. Conklin, was a sister of Isaac R. Hill of Washington, D. C., and of A. J. Hill, a former citizen of this township. The remains were accompanied to Johnstown by her brother, Lucius Conklin, and by her sister, Miss Victoria Conklin and Mrs. Emily Smith. Mr. Conklin and his sister, Victoria, are both prominent lawyers of St. Louis, she being one of the first women ever admitted to the bar. Their father, David Conklin, was a brother of the late John Conklin of whom many relatives still live in this community.

OF THE AMERICAN PROTECTIVE UNION AT MT. VERNON.

Ceremony of Institution Was Conducted by Ex-Senator Wm. E. Miller of Newark.

Mt. Vernon, O., July 10—The foundation stone of another new secret organization for Mt. Vernon has been laid. This new society is to be called Mt. Vernon Council No. 14 of the American Protective Union. The Council was instituted with about thirty-five charter members with the best business men of the city on the list. The ceremony was performed by Hon. Wm. E. Miller, supreme president of Newark and Mr. L. B. Houck of Mt. Vernon, assisted by Supreme Organizer A. L. Simmons. The benefits of the order were fully explained by the above named officers. The books will remain open for a few days in order to allow any person to become a charter member.

The officers elected on Wednesday evening were:

Past President, L. B. Houck. President, H. J. Chapplear. Vice President, Martha Ewing. Secretary, A. B. Jones. M. of C., Ida Larabee. Medical Examiner, Dr. Jas. F. Lee. Treasurer, Dr. R. L. McIntosh. Warden, R. E. Rawlinson. Guide, Lizzie B. Owen. Guard, Edson Larabee. Sentry, Joshua Taylor. Trustees, H. J. Williams one year, Arthur Tablett two years, Frank Weber three years.

The installation of officers was deferred until the next meeting, which will occur on July 23.

OIL WELL

At Hartford Has Reached Depth of 1150 Feet and the Work is Progressing Very Nicely.

Croton, O., July 10—The new oil well is now down to the depth of 1150 feet and the work is progressing very nicely. The new force of drillers is Joseph Potts, A. L. McCall and Arthur Simpson. They are now drilling in what is called big lime rock which will probably be 800 feet in thickness. All competition so far resembles that of the former well, the artesian flow of water from the depth of about 100 feet, and just above the lime a quantity of salt water is found. If oil comes in the new well in a good quantity, it is evident then that the first well drilled was an edge well. Cove oil belt beginning in N. Y. State and going in a southerly direction is about 150 miles in length, while other oil fields, as the one in northern Ohio are not nearly so long, but are wells of long life. It is generally believed that this field will not be as extensive as other oil fields are in case that paying quantities of oil are found, but it will be of unusual good quality and easy to refine. In Pennsylvania the wells are only 1000 to 1200 feet, thus permitting the use of lighter machinery and making the task of well drilling an easy one. The new well is situated one-fourth mile southeast of the first one drilled and visitors to the spot seem to be as numerous as ever. A great interest is manifested in the enterprise.

A man representing the Standard Oil company, put up at the Coleman hotel last week and spent the time in leasing land over the country. There is some talk of drilling the next well southeast from Croton, though it is not yet known what course will be taken until the new development is seen.

TURTLE RAISING.

Enterprise to Be Undertaken by United States Fish Commission.

Uncle Sam is going into the turtle raising business, says a Washington special dispatch to the Cincinnati Enquirer. It has been discovered that the green turtle is gradually becoming scarcer and bids fair to become an extinct species. Having in view the toothsome of green turtle soup and steaks, the United States fish commission has directed Professor Moore to get to work to devise a plan to preserve and propagate this great sea delicacy. It is a huge animal when full grown, frequently weighing as much as 300 pounds. It is a tropical product, and the only place where it can now be found in any numbers on our coast is in Florida. It is now becoming extremely rare, and in places where it was formerly abundant one is seldom seen.

The cause of its disappearance is undoubtedly that its eggs are destroyed before having an opportunity to hatch. Turtles' eggs have been known as a great delicacy for years and command fancy prices in the markets. Many persons on the southern coasts formerly made a regular practice of hunting the shores for nests. Raccoons have also destroyed great quantities of eggs and have been a big factor in the disappearance of the turtle. They patrol the coasts regularly in Florida, and it is seldom that a nest of eggs escapes their vigilant eyes.

Professor Moore says the plan of the government's experiments will be to get some of these eggs, hatch them and care for and protect the young until they attain the suitable age for breeding. It will be an easy matter to get all the eggs that may be desired at Key West, where turtles are regularly offered for sale and slaughtered. Runways will be constructed to take in a liberal beach area and a good portion of the sea, so that the turtles will have plenty of room in which to roam and swim about.

The fish commission is also to make experiments in the propagation of the loggerhead turtle, which is the variety that furnishes tortoise shell. The activity with which this turtle and its eggs have been hunted in recent years has made it very scarce also. The Florida supply is entirely exhausted, and at present specimens are found only on the coast of Mexico and Honduras.

POPE LEO'S JEWELS.

One of Them, Ex-President Kruger's Diamond, Alone Worth $4,000,000.

A Roman newspaper lately gave these particulars about the magnificent collection of jewels belonging to Pope Leo XIII.: The collection is of great value, with few in the world, even among those in the possession of reigning houses, to equal it. One of its notable treasures came to him from the hands of former President Kruger of the Transvaal. It came out of the Kimberley mines and is valued at $4,000,000.

In the collection are thirty tiaras set in diamonds, emeralds, rubies and pearls, and upward of a hundred rings, one of the most magnificent being a present from the sultan. This contains a marvelously beautiful blue diamond, which is valued at nearly $250,000. Of gold crosses the collection contains 318, set with all kinds of precious stones. The number of chalices and vessels used in the ceremonies of the church exceeds 2,000, and they are all more or less richly incrustured with jewels of every existing variety. The tiara actually worn by the pope, splendid as it is, is far from being the equal of a dozen others which have been worn at the Vatican since the days of Boniface VIII., each of which eclipsed its predecessor in cost and beauty.

How King Peter Guards Himself.

One of the first government acts of the new king of Servia was to remove his name from the list of persons billed to be executed the moment they are caught, says a special cable dispatch from Belgrade to the New York American and Journal. He had been on the list since 1868 and had to be very careful not to enter Servian territory. Peter is not easily surprised by dynamite bombs. When driving he has a few in a side pocket of the carriage, and half a dozen or more are always on his writing desk disguised as match boxes, cigar holders and the like. "If Alexander had had two or three of these things beside his bed on the fatal night he could have defied any number of conspirators," said the king to the mayor of Belgrade.

Uplifting Africa.

Various religious bodies are undertaking radical departures in African evangelization, says the Baltimore Herald, along industrial lines. American Methodists have, under Bishop Hartzell, entered upon an extensive industrial undertaking, comprising 12,000 acres and their development, and now a large number of Disciples of Christ are setting about the organization of an African industrial colony. Missionary enthusiasm is behind the venture. Financial subscriptions are coming in. Part of the plan is to establish in each proposed colony a Disciples of Christ church. Those behind the enterprise claim the new way to be an improvement upon the old in missionary method.

Moon Worship Among Many Peoples.

Figures of the moon as religious emblems can be traced to a very high antiquity. The ancient Egyptians had two moon gods—Khonsu or Khonsu and Thoth. The latter wore the moon on his head, either as a full moon or as a crescent. The divine honors paid to the cat on the banks of the Nile were probably due to its supposed connection with the moon, as shown by the changeable pupil of the feline eyes. In Greece both Phoebus and Phoebe were moon gods, and by Isis the Greeks understood the same planet. The Romans had many gods. With them Luna was the moon, the daughter of Hyperion and sister of the sun. According to Livy, the temple of Luna stood on the Aventine.

The ancient Goths, Germans and Finns were all moon worshippers, and in ancient Britain the moon occupied a high position in the celestial hierarchy of the Druids, who were always represented as bearing crescents in their hands. It is possible, too, that Andraste, the goddess to whom Boniface appealed with outstretched hands, was the moon.

For forty years Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry has been curing summer complaint, dysentery, diarrhoea, bloody flux, pain in the stomach, and it has never yet failed to do everything claimed for it.

A New Primary Battery.

A. J. Jarman of New York has devised an electric battery of which the chief feature is the use of aluminum in place of zinc, says the New York Tribune. The other "element" as electricians would call it, is platinized steel and the exciting fluid is caustic soda or ammonia salts. This type of cell generates its own current and does not need charging, as a secondary battery does. Hence it is entirely independent of dynamo. Mr. Jarman hopes to be able to adapt his invention to automobile service. At present he can give no assurance that more work can be obtained from the weight of battery or that the cost of operation would be as low as with the storage system. For a forty mile run it would be necessary to consume material costing about $20.

Typesetting by Electricity.

M. d'Arsonval has exhibited to the Academy of Science at Paris an invention which does typesetting by telegraph, an electric current being made to perforate the characters on a moving band connected with a typesetting machine, says the New York World. It is asserted that this contrivance, which is the work of a Mr. Royal, will dispense with transcriptions altogether for press purposes.

DRESS

CAUGHT FIRE AS SHE STEPPED UPON A MATCH.

Mrs. Katharine Schildhauer is Suffering From Burns but Will No Doubt Recover.

Mrs. Katharine Schildhauer, who was very seriously burned Wednesday morning, is still suffering greatly from her injuries at 349 Buckingham street. Mrs. Schildhauer had gone out of the house and returning stepped upon a match which ignited. The back of her skirt caught fire, and when she realized that this was true, she was soon enveloped in flames, which were put out as soon as assistance arrived, but not before her hands, face, hair, ears and arms were terribly burned. While her condition is serious it is not such that immediate alarm is felt.

POPE'S POEM ON DEATH.
Leo XIII. Presented a Copy to Each Cardinal on His Last Birthday.
Two days before, in celebration of his ninety-third birthday, Pope Leo XIII. gave a reception to forty-two of the cardinals in his private library. To each of them he presented a richly bound pamphlet reviewing the chief events of his pontificate and copies of a Latin poem he had just composed. It was on death, and a translation of it follows:
LEO'S LAST PRAYER.
Leo, now sets thy sun, pale in its dying ray.
Black night succeeds the day.
Black night for thee; wasted thy frame;
Life's flood sustains
No more thy shrunken veins.
Death casts his fatal dart; robed for the grave, thy bones
Lie under the cold stones.
But my freed soul escapes her chains and longs in flight
To reach the realms of light.
That is the goal she seeks; thither her journey fares;
Grant, Lord, my anxious prayers.
That with the citizens of heaven God's face and light
May ever thrill my sight;
That I may see thy face, heaven's queen,
Whose mother love
Has brought me here above.
To these saved through the tangles of a perilous way,
I lift my grateful lay.
This is his last poetical composition.

Booker Washington and the Colonel.
An old Florida colonel recently met Booker T. Washington. Says Everybody's Magazine, and in a bibulous burst of confidence said to the negro educator:
"Suh, I'm glad to meet you. Always wanted to shake your hand, suh. I think, suh, you're the greatest man in America."
"Oh, no," said Mr. Washington.
"You are, suh," said the colonel, and then, pugnaciously, "Who's greater?"
"Well," said the founder of Tuskegee, "suh's President Roosevelt."
"No, suh!" roared the colonel. "Not by a jugful; I used to think so, but since he invited you to dinner I think he's a blank soundrel."

The Kaw's Poisoned Waters.
Professor Haworth of the University of Kansas is puzzled over one feature of the recent Kaw flood in Kansas, says the New York Commercial Advertiser. Whatever the water touched it blighted. Where animals stood in the water the hair came off and was often followed by the skin. This has been found true in almost every instance, and where the water went vegetable life has been blighted. Hardly a green leaf was left after being touched by the waters. Trees that would ordinarily grow and flourish in the water have withered and died after standing in the flood waters.

The Subject He Liked Best.
"You talk well on the subject in which you are most interested," said the impertinent girl.
"And what is that?" said the man, smelling a compliment.
"Yourself," said the impertinent girl demurely.

A Most Delicious Dessert

Shredded Whole Wheat Biscuit is made in the most hygienic and scientific food laboratory in the world. The wheat is spun into light shreds, containing thousands of open pores and is not crushed flat and dense as in the case of other foods. These pores absorb the digestive juices and provide far greater surface for their action than is given by any other food.

The following simple "course before course" is made in your kitchen with the shredded whole wheat biscuits. The simplicity of preparation and the little effort required make this dessert a rare favor in the home.

USE SEASONABLE FRUIT AND

SHREDDED WHOLE WHEAT BISCUIT

Split and slightly toast the Biscuit, then serve with berries, sliced peaches, bananas or any seasonable fruit. Simple, isn't it? Your verdict will be:

"Simply Delicious"

For Shruteake—With sharp knife, divide the SHREDDED WHOLE WHEAT BISCUIT lengthwise; prepare pineapple as for sauce for bananas or sliced fruit and set aside. When serving, arrange halves in layers covered with fruit and sugar and whipped cream.

SHREDDED WHOLE WHEAT BISCUIT is sold by all grocers.

NEW CHIEF

IS TO BE JAMES S. SHERIDAN OF THIS CITY.

New Captain of Police is William Howard—Board of Public Safety Makes Its Report.

The member of the Newark Board of Public Safety, F. A. Bolton and Theo. M. Bail, have certified to Mayor A. J. Crilly that the following men had passed the examination required by law for positions named:

Chief of Police, James S. Sheridan.
Captain of Police, Wm. M. Howard.
Patrolmen, Chas. B. Hager, Charles O. Burke, George S. McClure, F. H. Stewart.

Firemen, Edward Roe, William M. Thompson, Charles Daerr, C. D. Williams.

James Sheridan will be the next chief of police and William Howard will be captain. There are two firemen and two patrolmen to be appointed, and Mayor Crilly will make his selections Saturday.

James Sheridan the new chief of police, is the son of the late Bernard Sheridan, and was born in Columbus in 1864. When about six months old he came to Newark with his parents and has since resided in this city. His father died about 14 years ago, and the new chief has lived and is now living, with his mother, at 35 North Morris street.

Mr. Sheridan learned the trade of boiler maker at the B. & O. shops and worked there until May 11 last, when he resigned to accept a position in the Newark fire department being assigned to the Central House.

Mr. Sheridan has two brothers, William, division superintendent of the Mexico and International railroad with headquarters in Diaz, Mex.; Phillip, also in the west; three sisters, Mrs. James Connors, Misses Lou and Anna, all of this city.

The appointment of Mr. Sheridan is highly satisfactory as he is a young man of great personal popularity, and has the intelligence and force of character to make an exemplary chief of police.

He will assume his new duties Saturday, his resignation as a member of the fire department taking place tonight.

FIVE KILLED

MR. BOOZ FORMERLY OF THIS CITY SAW ACCIDENT.

A Pennsylvania Flyer Struck Wagon Near Cincinnati—What Officer Booz Saw.

Robert Copenhagen, aged 38, a subcontractor whose home is at Seven Mile Ford, Va., William Booth, 19, one of his employees, Olive Copenhagen 7, Charles Copenhagen 5, and Grace Limmink, 9, were instantly killed by a Pennsylvania passenger train at Red Bank junction, near Cincinnati, Thursday evening, and Charles Johnson, 18, Halbert Copenhagen 11, Nellie Copenhagen 9, and Samuel Copenhagen 2, were more or less seriously injured.

Copenhagen was in camp with his family so as to be near his work of construction of the Kroyer-Wilson electric traction line, and started with those mentioned to go to Linwood to get a load of corn for his horses, in a three seated wagon.

Johnson and Booth were Copenhagen's employees, Grace Limmink was the daughter of a farmer who lived near the camp, and the others were his children. Johnson was driving and drove on the tracks at the crossing, being unable to see in either direction on account of dense undergrowth. The train struck them with the terrific results mentioned.

Police Lieutenant Chas. H. Booz, of the Pennsylvania road, who formerly lived in Newark, was on the train and witnessed the loading of the bodies after the accident. He said that as soon as the wagon was seen by Engineer Luke Daley he threw on the emergency and brought the train to a stop within two car lengths or about 120 feet of the crossing. He says that Mrs. F. M. Trent, wife of the station agent saw the wagon coming and heard the train. She called to the driver but he evidently did not hear or misunderstood the signal and did not stop. She says that a little girl beside the driver cried: "Oh, papa, don't drive on the track." At that moment the train struck the wagon and four were instantly killed, while the rest were injured and mangled. The road bed was strewn with the bodies, while the team of mules hitched to the wagon became loose and ran down the track.

IN CAMP

Dr. Brown the Buckeye Lake Physician and Dr. Knauss of Newark Made Inspection.

Dr. Brown, the genial Buckeye Lake physician, made many friends among the boys at Camp Harrigan. He was present at sick call every morning during the week and aided much in making the camp a success. Dr. Knauss, always a welcome visitor, inspected the camp twice and pronounced it, from a sanitary point, as perfect as possible. He especially commended the plain but sufficient diet and the cleanly condition of the mess department. Dr. Brown was desirous that every boy should return to his home in a better physical condition than when he came.

BARN

Owned by F. T. Bricker Badly Damaged by Fire Friday—Loss Covered by Insurance.

At 11:30 o'clock Friday morning an alarm of fire was sounded from box 43, which called the Central department to the barn rented by A. H. Rickett, corner Chestnut and Fourth streets. The flames destroyed the entire upper portion of the building with two loads of hay that had just been put in, but two horses and the carriages were taken out before they were injured. The loss is probably $500, which is covered with insurance. F. T. Bricker owned the building.

ST. PAULS

Progress Made in Newark Church—Statement Made by Pastor—Communion Next Sunday.

Services preparatory to the Holy Communion will be conducted this evening at St. Paul's church by the pastor, Rev. J. C. Schindel at 7:15 o'clock. Choir rehearsal will be held immediately after the preparatory services. At the public worship last Lord's day morning, Pastor Schindel among other statements showing the progressive work of St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran parish, gave the following figures: sermons preached during the pastoral year, 231; public addresses delivered 32; funerals 85; marriages solemnized 74; pastoral visits 418; social visits 387 accessions to the church, infant baptisms 53; adult baptisms 12; confirmations 47; received by letter 31; total 143. Present communicant membership, males 113, females 249; total 362; baptized unconfirmed 249; grand total 611. The various societies are in a most healthy condition and the future in every department of the church work promises much.

THE COURTS

AN INSURANCE CASE.

An action has been brought in Common Pleas Court against the B. & O. railroad company by Melvin D. Karlocof through his attorney Wayne Collier to recover the sum of $1999 under a section of the statutes forbidding compulsory insurance.

PRISONERS ESCAPE.

Williamsburg, Ky., July 10—Eleven prisoners escaped from jail here last night by breaking up the grates in the floors. Five are charged with murder and the others with serious offenses. John Peters has been arrested charged with passing in a crowbar to aid them. One of the men was recaptured.

Order of Sale.

An order of private sale was issued in the case of Ivory Hughes, administrator of the estate of Patrick Dunan against P. F. Dman and others.

Real Estate Transfers.

Ed A. Evans and Sarah J. Evans to Joseph Pound and Ora G. Pound, real estate in Newton and Mary Ann township, $875.

Henry A. Halliday by Sheriff W. H. Anderson, Jr., to Nelson H. Palmer and James W. Strawn, sheriff's deed for lot 47 in the village of Summit, $152.

The Newark Real Estate and improvement company to Clyde M. Hare, lot 1293 in Ballou's addition to Newark, $1300.

HIGH TENSION WIRE

Brought Into Newark in the Night—The Suggestions of Board of Public Service Not Accepted Matter Now in Solicitor's Hands.

The feed wire of the Buckeye Lake road, from the central power house at Hebron, to the sub-station in this city at the corner of Twelfth and Church streets, has been brought into the city and put up, not in accordance with the suggestions of the Board of Public Service, but according to the plans and intentions of the railroad company.

This wire is the highest tension wire ever brought into Newark, carrying 13,000 volts of electricity from Hebron to the reducing station here, where it is distributed as needed.

When the company first contemplated bringing this wire in on 35 foot poles, Manager Hollander of the Newark Telephone company and Fire Chief Louis Bausch, both experts, saw the danger, and with other interested parties, appealed to the Board of Public Service, who took action in the matter, and consulted with the Superintendent of overhead construction of the Appleyard syndicate.

The Board made three propositions, one to put the wire underground, the second to put it on 50 foot poles high enough to clear all other wires, and the third to bring it down the creek by an isolated route.

These propositions appeared eminently fair to the Board, but evidently did not suit the railroad people, who on Wednesday night put a gang of men to work, who put in all night at their task, and completed it on Thursday, so that now with the exception of a few minor connections, is ready to turn in the current.

President Lamb of the Board of Public Service, was quite wrought up when he learned that the Board and its propositions, had been completely ignored in the matter.

Mayor Crilly also expressed his disgust at the manner in which the wire was strung, under the cover of darkness, and advised President Lamb to call a meeting of the Board, pass a resolution to apply on their behalf for a mandatory injunction, and instruct Solicitor Smythe to take that action.

The Board of Public Service has placed the entire matter in the hands of Solicitor Smythe, who will take what action seems to him fit.

Henry C. Strong and wife to Clifford L. Sturgeon, lot 3382 in Woodside addition to Newark, $1 and other considerations.

Wells W. Bernard to Sherman R. Fristoe, real estate in Newark, $500.

John L. Styron and Annie D. Styron to Nora Hayes, part of lot 240 in Newark, $2400.

GOOD SHOT

Brought Down the Hawk in Court House Yard—Mr. Gates Hit Him Between Eyes.

For some time past a voracious sparrow hawk has been infesting the Court House park, terrorizing and killing the little birds in the park trees. Today Frank Gates obtained permission from Mayor Crilly to kill the hawk if he could. Shortly after dinner Mr. Gates repaired to the locality with a loaded shot gun and had some boys stop the hawk which had a nest in one of the tall trees. The hawk flew away, but just before he disappeared entirely out of sight a shot from Mr. Gates' gun struck him squarely between the eyes at which point he aimed, and he dropped to the ground a dead bird. The bird may be stuffed and sent to the St. Louis exposition next year as a trophy of the skill of the Licking county gun club.

Animals and Poisons.

Certain substances which are deadly in their effects upon men can be taken by the brute creation with impunity. Horses can take large doses of antimony, dogs of mercury, goats of tobacco, mice of hemlock and rabbits of belladonna without injury. On the other hand, dogs and cats are much more susceptible to the influence of chloroform than man and are much sooner killed by it. If this invaluable anesthetic had been first tried upon animals, we should probably have never enjoyed its blessings, as it would have been found to be so fatal that its discoverer would have been afraid to test its effects upon human beings. It is evident, then, that an experiment upon an animal can never be the means of any certain deductions so far as man is concerned—Family Doctor.

Over-Work Weakens Your Kidneys.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

All the blood in your body passes through your kidneys once every ten minutes. The kidneys are your blood purifiers, they filter out the waste or impurities in the blood. If they are sick or out of order, they fail to do their work. Pains, aches and rheumatism come from excess of uric acid in the blood, due to neglected kidney trouble.

Kidney trouble causes quick or "unsteady" heart beats, and makes one feel as though they had heart trouble, because the heart is over-worked in pumping thick, kidney-poisoned blood through veins and arteries.

It used to be considered that only urinary troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all constitutional diseases have their beginning in kidney trouble.

If you are sick you can make no mistake by first doctoring your kidneys. The mild and extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmor's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases and is sold on its merits by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail. Home of Swamp-Root, free, also pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing Dr. Kilmor & Co., Binghamton, N. Y.

THE RAILWAYS

THIEVES STEAL PROPERTY OF ITALIAN LABORERS.

An Inspection Party Through Newark. Charles Wilkin's Injury—Local and General News.

For some time past a large gang of Italian laborers employed by the B. & O. railroad company, have been camping in several cars near the Children's Home. Here they made their home, sleeping and doing their own cooking. Several days ago while the men were absent from the cars, engaged in work, thieves broke open the cars, and stole a considerable quantity of goods belonging to the men. The matter was placed in the hands of the railroad detectives, but thus far no clue has been obtained as to the identity of the thieves. In order to avoid a repetition of the burglary, the cars have been removed to the west end of the yards near the yard office. There are about thirty men in the gang many of whom are excellent musicians, and the evenings are spent by them in music, singing and enjoying themselves as only men from "sunny Italy" can do. They afford much amusement for the railroad men working in that vicinity and large crowds assemble around their camp every evening.

Inspection Party.

The inspection party of division officers of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad which went over the Shawnee division and Columbus division on Thursday, passed through the city on their way east this morning.

Painful Accident.

Charles Wilkin a yard man, met with a very painful accident. He was throwing a switch when the ball of the switch fell on one of his feet, badly injuring it and necessitating his laying off for a short time.

Specials Come High.

Mansfield, July 10—In order that he might take dinner with his friend, President Charles Schwab of the steel corporation, Millionaire Rockwell of Pittsburgh, paid $240.65 for a special on the Pennsylvania to take him from Crestline to Pittsburgh, and it was only a day coach that he rode in. Mr. Rockwell missed Limited Train No. 6 at Crestline, where he was transacting some business, and not desiring to break his dinner engagement with Mr. Schwab, did some rapid work and obtained the special, making the trip in three hours and 40 minutes.

To Build New Railroad.

Hillsboro, Ky., July 10—R. C. Ford of Middlesboro, and Shelton Evans and John Green, of Pineville, who were appointed special commissioners by the Bell county court to appraise condemned land in Bell county for rights of way for the Middlesboro-Harlan line, have completed their task and paid the land owners. Vice President Pondi of the Middlesboro Mineral railway company states that the road will be built within a very short time. The road will be 43 miles long, and will go through coal and timber country.

Arguments Concluded.

Clarksburg, W. Va., July 10—Argument in a mandamus suit brought in the United States Court by the Kingwood Coal company against the West Virginia and Northern railroad and others to compel defendants to make no discrimination in the distribution of cars, was concluded before Judge this afternoon, sitting in special term. The Judge announced that he would take the case under consideration and render his decision at a later date.

The Fastest Run.

Wabash, Ind., July 10—The fastest run ever made on the Chicago and Erie railroad was accomplished Tuesday, it being a special train drawn by engine 43, with Engineer McIlvaine in charge. The 122 miles from Huntington to Hammond was covered in 121 minutes not deducting a five minute water stop. The run from Huntington to Bass Lake, 64 miles, was made in 60 minutes. President Underwood, of the Erie system, and family were aboard the car.

Louisville and Nashville.

New York, July 10—At a meeting of the board of the Louisville and Nashville railroad company, August Belmont resigned his position as chairman of the board. Henry Walters was unanimously elected in his stead. The directors declared the regular semi-annual dividend of 2 1/2 per cent. The report for the year ending June 30 showed a surplus after charges and dividends have been declared of $3, 126,459, an increase of $1,276,152 over the previous year. Mr. Belmont announced some time ago his intention to sever active connection with the Louisville and Nashville, pleading press of outside affairs.

Mt. Vernon's Proposed Depot.

The officials of the Lake Erie division of the B. & O. passed through this city Wednesday afternoon on an inspection tour. They stopped here about an hour, visited the company's property, and lunched. The site for the new depot at the intersection of the B. & O. and C. & A. & C. was visited, but nothing definite was decided on—Mt. Vernon Republican-News.

See Serpents Breathe Air.

Like all other serpents, the sea serpents, though permanently inhabiting the sea, are air breathers. The lateral flattening of their tails greatly helps them to swim in any direction, and it specially enables them to rise rapidly to the surface of the water to breathe. That they may do this the more easily and securely their nostrils are placed at the very end of the muzzle and are furnished with valves, which secure them from being entered by the water in which they live.

Unlike other snakes, they cast their skins in small pieces. Their eyes are not adapted to see well out of water, and thus they cannot when in the air take a good aim to bite. They feed on small fishes, which they paralyze by means of their poison, and thus they have nothing to fear from the spines of the fishes they eat.

Minicre In Caterpillars.

A very large caterpillar stretched itself from the foliage of a tree which it was examining and startled me by its resemblance to a small snake. The first three segments behind the head were dilatate at the will of the insect and had on each side a large black pupilated spot, which resembled the eye of the snake. It was a poisonous or viperine species mimicked and not an innocuous snake. This was proved by the imitation of keeled scales on the crown, which was produced by the recumbent feet as the caterpillar threw itself backward. I carried off the caterpillar and alarmed every one in the village where I was then living to whom I showed it.—"Records of a Naturalist in the Amazon."

Two Tales of Truffled Turkeys.

The Abbe Morelet was accustomed to say: "There needs be two to eat a truffled turkey. I never do otherwise. I have one today. We will be two—the turkey and myself."

The archbishop of Sanzal was another truffled turkey lover. His grand vicar had lost a turkey to him on a bet and delayed paying up because, as he alleged, "truffles were bad that year."

"Bah! Bah!" said the archbishop. "We will change the truffles. This is a false report that has been circulated by the turkeys."—"The Pleasures of the Table," by G. H. Ellwanger.

Toilet of the Cat.

Cats, large and small, make the most careful toilet of any class of animals, excepting some of the opossums. The lions and tigers wash themselves in exactly the same manner as the cat, wetting the back, rubberlike ball of the fore foot and inner toe and passing it over the face and behind the ears. The foot is thus at the same time a face sponge and brush, and the rough tongue combs the rest of the body.

A KISHINEFF VISITOR.

Professor Steiner's Views of the Jewish Massacre.

HE BLAMES OZAR'S GOVERNMENT.

Grinnell College Educator Who Has Returned From Russia Says Hatred of Jews Is Not the Fault of the Russians—He Also Tells of the Extent of Tolstoy's Influence.

Professor Edward A. Steiner of Grinnell college in Iowa, who went to Russia last fall under commission from the Outlook company to gather material concerning Count Tolstoy, devoted his winter to this purpose and incidentally stopped at Kishineff a few days after the massacre. He arrived at New York recently, and speaking of his trip, said:

"I went direct to Tolstoy's estate, Yasnaya Polyana, which is near the city of Tula, about twelve hours by rail from Moscow. Tolstoy was exceedingly ill when I arrived, and had been removed from the quarters which he had long occupied, a sort of hotel-like room on the lowest floor of the house. He had been taken upstairs, where a physician lived with him. He recovered soon, but he remains, and will doubtless always remain, a broken down man, a man who will be confined much to his house, and will never again be able to work in the fields, as has long been his custom.

"At different times while I lived on the Tolstoy estate I took trips to Moscow, and was particularly interested in studying the cab drivers and prisoners and what might be called the lower order of people in the city, with the idea of finding out from them what influence the efforts of Tolstoy in their behalf had upon them. One incident is enough to mark the point. Moscow is one of the most pious cities in the world. At every corner there are holy pictures and statues, at which the citizens reverently stop and bow. The driver of my cab, I noticed on my first day of investigation, passed by these pictures unnoticed.

"Why don't you cross yourself? I asked.

"Tolstoy said we must not," he answered.

"So I knew that the influence of Tolstoy had reached the cab drivers of Moscow at least.

"From my residence on the Tolstoy estate I am convinced that he knows everything that goes on in Russia. There is not a revolutionary scheme, I am sure, that any one is hatching that Tolstoy does not hear about. All manner of men are eager to submit ideas of violence to him, and they go to see him in droves and tell him their most secret thoughts without hesitation. But he sends them all away after he has reasoned with them and has told them that they must not resort to violence, that the kingdom of God is within them. There is no telling how many revolutionary outbreaks he has averted.

"I was in Moscow when the news was received of the Kishineff massacre; there was very little about it in the newspapers because of the censorship. There was no excitement—no more than if a pig had been killed—because the news was so scanty. There were two or three lines in the paper a few days after it happened from a little letter that had got through. The telegraph and telephone offices were closed. When I reached Kishineff there was no excitement; everything had died down.

"The Jews were huddled together in their quarters, especially around the synagogues. I went among them and stayed a few days. Such horrible things happened during the massacre that I could not repeat them. But while this is all true, at the same time the Jews told me there were also instances of extreme kindness on the part of a priest, even at the peril of his own life.

"This Jewish problem is a big, festering sore. We always think of the Jews as rich, but the mass of them in Russia are exceedingly poor. They often die of hunger. There is more hunger typhus among the Jews in Russia than anywhere else in the world.

"This hatred of the Russian people; they are not to blame. It is the Russian government. The government is anxious now to keep the Jew as a scapegoat, understand? The Russian peasantry is coming to the cities now, and Russia is becoming an industrial country to some extent. The peasants are getting socialistic ideas. They are getting ready for a revolution. Never was there such a critical time in Russia as now, and the government knows it; so it seeks to divert the peasant from the real sinner as much as possible, and is putting him on the Jews.

"First of all because the Jew is an economic problem there, and he is getting to be a great political problem, and because, naturally, if the Jew is treated in that way he will be against the government. You will find that some of the most violent anarchists and socialists in Russia are Jews. The government knows that. For instance, it gave an order not long ago that the army be closely watched because of socialistic literature which was being circulated, and that the Jewish soldiers should be specially watched. They are always the most intelligent in the ranks, and they become agitators."

Retrospection. A Scotchman had two sons, one of whom was a doctor and the other a clergyman, of whom he was very proud. "If I had kept," said he, "that one of my sons was to be a medical man and the other a minister, I would never have had old Jenny McCosh for their mother."

ROMOC

CURES RHEUMATISM because it drives out of the blood all those foreign poisons and acids which cause the disease.

CURES INDIGESTION because it strengthens the stomach and renews the digestive juices. It heals irritated surfaces almost instantly.

CURES NERVOUSNESS because it builds up the nerve tissues and stimulates the nerve centres.

CURES BLOOD TROUBLES because it cleanses, and because it contains the elements which make red corpuscles, the vital component of the blood.

I ASSERT POSITIVELY THAT ROMOC HAS BEEN PROVEN TO DO THESE THINGS.

Good Paste. Not every man can make a good flour paste that can be preserved without decay or mold. When such a paste is needed, try the following: Mix good, clean flour with cold water into a thick paste and continue mixing until the flour and water are well blended. Now add boiling water and stir until it is thin enough to spread with a brush. Add to this a spoonful or two of brown sugar, a little corrosive sublimate and a few drops of oil of lavender and you will have a paste that will hold with wonderful tenacity.

In Holland. Many of the country dames and damsels in Holland look as if they had been brought up on soap and water. Their faces glisten so preternaturally, their pots and pans, the red tiles of their floors, their tables and benches all bear witness so unmistakably to their cleansing ardor. I suppose a fly in the butter they were churning or a mired foot on the boards they have but just scrubbed would be as nearly likely to give them a fit as anything could be.—Chambers' Journal.

A Giant Emperor. Maximinus, the giant Roman emperor, could twist coils into corkscrews, powder hard rocks between his fingers and do other seemingly impossible things. When angered, he often broke the jaw of a horse or the skull of an ox with his fist. His wife's bracelet served him for a ring, and every day he ate sixty pounds of meat and drank an amphora of wine.

Retrospection. A Scotchman had two sons, one of whom was a doctor and the other a clergyman, of whom he was very proud. "If I had kept," said he, "that one of my sons was to be a medical man and the other a minister, I would never have had old Jenny McCosh for their mother."

Lancaster Shuts Out Circleville.
The strong Lancaster team, which opens a three game series at Idlewild
Park today, shut out the Circleville
Reds Thursday at Lancaster by a score of 6 to 0. The Lancaster team has been playing the best ball of any team in Ohio, and it will take the best playing of which the Idlewild team is capable to win the series from them, but this is what the local boys expect to do. The lovers of baseball in Newark should turn out to see these games as they have an important bearing on the state championship, which honor
the Idlewild boys expect to capture.

Lancaster Opens Series Today.
The Lancaster baseball team after a couple of weeks of successive victories, arrived in Newark today and opened a three game series at Idlewild Park.
The games will be played today, Saturday and Sunday, and should draw big crowds, as Lancaster has been almost invincible for the past several weeks.

ROUNDER

At Canton Lands in the Parlor of the Wrong House and Has a Narrow Escape.

Canton, O., July 10—Bewildered after being out for a good time with the boys a prominent Canton business man failed to find his right home and accidentally wandered into the front parlor of the residence of Freight Agent
George Leggett of North Cherry street where he was mistaken for a burglar by the occupants. If Leggett had not recognized the intruder the little explosion of that Canton citizen would not have been so funny.

At three o'clock a. m. Leggett heard a noise in the house. The freight agent procured an old shot gun and crept down stairs. Before going into the parlor he turned on an electric light in the room. When he reached the reception room he beheld a man attired only in his underclothes strutting about in the room. Leggett was about to fire when he luckily recognized the man, who was in a dazed condition. Leggett asked him if he knew where he was putting up for the night. The citizen finally came to and began making apologies, explaining how he had met some of the boys. Leggett steered the man toward home. The latter is congratulating himself on his narrow escape.

Suitor Held for Murder—Lawyer Barnard Accused of Giving Poisoned Candy to Girl.

Savannah, Ga., July 10—Miss Ida Weeks, a society girl and daughter of one of the most prominent families in Georgia is dead at her home in Reids-ville, in Tatnall county, and her discarded lover Roach Barnard, a lawyer, is under arrest charged with having caused her death by giving her poisoned candy. Barnard and Miss Weeks were engaged, but last week the girl notified Barnard that all was over between them. Barnard asked for a last meeting, which Miss Weeks granted, and he called last Sunday. He begged her to marry him, but she refused. As he was leaving he handed her a box of candy, saying: "It is the last present I will ever make you."

Miss Weeks accepted the candy and ate several pieces, remarking that it was the bitterest candy she had ever eaten. Soon she went into convulsions and death followed. Her father caused a post-mortem examination to be held,
and Dr. Tuttle found traces of poison in her stomach. The stomach and pieces of the candy have been sent to Atlanta to be analyzed by the State Chemist. Barnard, in the meanwhile, had been arrested on a warrant charging murder. The young lawyer refuses to discuss the matter.

REMINISCENCES

EVIDENCES OF KINDNESS, WIT
AND HUMOR OF POPE.

A Quick Reader of Character—Markmanship as a Hunter—His Only Thrashing.

A well known Catholic once told a story of the kindness and discerning power of Pope Leo XIII., says the Rome correspondent of the Pall Mall Gazette.

"Our pope," said he, "reads character at a glance and is rarely deceived. One evening, when nuncio at Brussels, he was entering his carriage to go to dinner at the house of Count de Baillet
when just as his foot was on the carriage step a workman, wretchedly dressed, rushed forward, insulted him and attacked him personally. His servants, ready in his defense, seized the aggressor and proceeded to make things hot for him, but the pope, then simple Mgr. Pecci, stopped them and calmly and kindly addressing the man,
said:

"My friend, I bear you no malice for what you have done. Are you in need?
Come to see me some other time," and he gave a franc piece slip into his hand.
Needless to say, the workman, after much encouragement, went to see him,
and went so often that the nuncio eventually took him into his service as a domestic, and Leo XIII., who retained a benevolent recollection of him, used to recount that he never had a servant more respectful and more to be trusted."

A story which typifies the two dominant characteristics of the pope, his homeliness and his humor, is as follows: Says a writer in the London Tit-Bits: One day when he was beset by pilgrims begging for some memorial of him, something which his hands had touched, an old lady said to him, "Holy father, give me one of your stockings; it will cure my bad leg."
"With pleasure, madam," the pontiff replied, "but I may as well tell you it has never cured mine."

Right Rev. Camillus Paul Maes, bishop of Covington, O., who made his ad limina visit to Rome in May, 1902, speaking of the characteristics of the pope, said in the Cincinnati Enquirer:

"A very singular trait of Leo XIII.
is his great store of good humor and
wit. I have known no man more responsive to a pleasant joke or more keen and quick in his reply. I recall the case of a certain French bishop who visited the pope several years ago, and upon leaving began to weep. The holy father asked the reason of his distress, and the prelate replied that he could not control himself at the thought that he would never see him again. The pope answered: 'Why will you not see me again? You are still a young man.' The bishop, who was about sixty, looked up at this reply,
and, seeing the smile of keen delight on the holy father's face, took his farewell with conflicting emotions."

"In March, 1902, a certain French lady, who regularly visits the pope every two years, upon leaving inquired whether she should come again, and received the answer, 'Once more and then'—and he pointed upward."

The installation of the electric light in the Vatican was inaugurated not long ago. It is on a very extensive scale, comprising 6,000 lamps of sixteen candle power, says the Pall Mall Gazette. The pope said recently, in referring to this noteworthy event in the history of the apostolic palace, "People will no longer be able to reproach the Vatican with being the enemy of light."

Father Salvagni, the only surviving schoolmate of the pope in Carpineto, Italy, while recalling incidents of the pope's boyhood days, spoke thus, according to the Cincinnati Commercial Tribune:

"Ser Nino Leo was the most courageous mountain climber I ever saw,
and we have long been famous for our skill in mountaineering in this part of the country. And at one time he was the best shot in these mountains.
So great was his skill with the rifle that he disdained to shoot a bird except on the wing. But study ruined his marksmanship. It was a great pity. I was ashamed of him the last time he visited us, in September, 1857. With other huntsmen, I had gone out on the road near Montelanico to meet him.
He recognized me in the throng and began to lend him my rifle. I handed the weapon to him. He aimed at a bird and hit a tree. It cut me to the heart. He, the best rifleman in the mountains, to miss an easy shot! He never used a gun again. I suppose he felt the disgrace too keenly. He left us on Nov. 2 of that same year, never to return."

Only once was the holy father ever beaten. That was when he was twelve years old. He and his brother, who was a year older, were so much excited when their mother, the Countess Anna, was pursued to her very door by brigands that they went forth to have a good view of the robbers. In those days the banditti were picturesque looking creatures, wearing velvet coats and trousers, with silver buttons, red shirts and head handkerchiefs and carrying many knives and pistols. Their father rescued the youngsters just in time, and then he thrashed them with much vigor.

MANILA'S WATER SUPPLY.

Its New Source to Insure Greater Purity and Much Larger Quantity.
Manila and its outlying districts are shortly to have a new and more extensive water supply, which will insure greater purity and an increase of quantity equal to three times the present supply, says the Manila Times. Surveys are now in progress and are being rapidly pushed to completion.

The surveying is under the charge of Major Case, formerly of the Fortieth infantry, assisted by Captain H. H.
Pitcairn of the Forty-seventh volunteer infantry. The necessity of improving the water supply of the metropolis has been evident ever since the recent cholera epidemic. Since that time the military and constabulary have been active in patrolling the Marikina river from the intake up to its source, also in guarding the single pipe line from El Deposito to the city, in order to checkmate the threats of many desperate characters. The civil commission, realizing the urgent need for a more perfect system of supply, decided some time ago to give the city what it needs and also eliminate the hardship now imposed upon the natives above the intake.

These people have from time immemorial looked upon the Marikina river as their personal property, to use as they like, for bathing themselves, washing their clothes, wallowing their carabao and draining their sewage.

The new source of supply will be moved up the river some forty miles and two miles or more above Montalban. At the proposed point of intake the country is uninhabited near the banks of the river, and the nearest population consists of a few Igorrotes, who live well up in the foothills and mountains, so that the danger of a contamination of the water is reduced to a minimum.

DANGER IN VEGETABLES.

How These Grown on Contaminated Soil Cause Sickness in Summer.

"One of the most frequent causes of sickness in summer," said Dr. Harvey
W. Wiley of the department of agriculture the other day, "is entirely overlooked by law, and that is the preparation of soil for growing vegetables for the market. I have on several occasions called attention to the danger of eating vegetables grown on or under the ground which has been exposed to contamination from sewage, city waste or garbage."

Dr. Wiley does not go so far as to say that in the process of plant growth the germs of disease are taken up into the tissue of the plant, but he believes that by contact vegetables grown in improper soil may carry the actual germs of disease to the table, says a Washington special to the New York Times.
This would not occur probably in the case of vegetables that are boiled in their preparation for eating, but in a number of vegetables that are eaten in salads and without cooking the danger is always present where the consumer relies on vegetables purchased in market. On this account it is urged that as far as possible householders should return to the old fashioned practice of raising their own salad plants. At least they should know where they are grown.

LETTER TUBES IN PARIS.

Rapid System of Electric Postal Service to Be Tried in France.

A scheme is being promoted in Paris
for constructing a system of subterranean pneumatic conduits for the rapid transportation of mail matter and parcel freight and express, says the Engineering News. The proposition has been brought to the notice of the government, and official trials will be made of models. The system employs electricity as its motive power, and its inventors represent that they can transport cars weighing a ton over any given distance at a speed of 100 miles an hour. The system is styled the "electric postal service."

A metal duct is to be constructed of a width of not exceeding thirty inches, which will be wide enough for a double track to accommodate trains going in opposite directions. The cars would be simply sheet iron cases supported on two or four axles and carrying the electric motor. The central compartment of each "car," measuring about twenty cubic feet, would be reserved for freight. The total length of each vehicle would be about twenty-two feet, but it would not exceed twenty inches in height. To counteract the resistance of the air—naturally of great force in view of the excessive speed attained by the vehicle—the front and rear of each car would be equipped with wind cutters in parabolic form.

First Government Irrigation.
The first government irrigation expenditure will be made in Thomas county, Kan. The water will be secured by drilling wells. The expense of building a reservoir large enough to irrigate many thousand acres of land will be small owing to the character of the land.

CREMO 5c.

The First Pantomime.

Most pantomime characters were originally borrowed from the Italians.
The first real English pantomime was produced at a theater in Lincoln's Inn Fields in 1729. It was called "Harlequin Duetted," and its subtitle was
"A New Italian Comic Scene Between a Scaramouche, a Harlequin, a Country Farmer, His Wife and Others." The performance was very successful.
About the middle of the eighteenth century the character of pantomime performances was completely altered, chiefly because of the genius of the famous Grimaldi, who made the clown
the first figure of the pantomime. Grimaldi first appeared at Sadler's Wells theater, where he played the part of a monkey. He was actively engaged on the stage for forty-nine years, and at the close of his stage career he took a benefit at Drury Lane theater, which realized nearly $600. He also received £100 from the Drury Lane fund. This was in June, 1828. He died in 1837 and was buried in the churchyard in St.
James' chapel, Pentonville hill.—London Standard.

Extent of Foreign Travel.

The indications are that foreign travel will this summer exceed that of any previous season. Sixty-seven sailings a month of first class passenger steamships will be made from New York for European ports. This is provision for 86,000 passengers between April and September. An expert estimate puts the amount paid for steamship fares at $31,000,000 and the expenditures in Europe at $70,000,000.

road company will sell low rate excursion tickets to Atlantic City, Ocean
City, Cape May and Sea Isle City, N.
J., and Ocean City, Md., on Thursday,
July 30, 1903.

Atlantic City, N. J., the most popular of the hundred or more resorts along the Atlantic Coast, is pronounced the finest watering place in the world.
The great American Seashore Resort
has kept pace with the times and prospered.
The hotels have grown in number and size. Prosperity and popularity are with it.

The surf bathing which has made Atlantic City famous is one of the wonders of the world. The sight during bathing hours defies description; men, women and children in bathing estates of various hues form a picture
only to be seen at Atlantic City.

Aside from the sea-side features, Atlantic City has amusements of every kind. Great iron piers extend hundreds of feet into the ocean. Each pier has its summer theatre and land stud,
and for a nominal price one can enjoy the comfortable cars of the pier and listen to the music of the bands throughout the entire day, if he so wills it.

The proximity of Atlantic City to all the big central and western cities, by reason of the excellent through rail-service of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, makes it the resort of the masses.
Tickets will be available on all regular trains, and will be good for return twelve days, including date of sale, thus giving ample time for an enjoyable outing. Stopover within limit of ticket will be allowed at Philadelphia, Pa., and Washington, D. C. on return trip.

THE A. A. Griggs COMPANY

THE W. C. T. U.

The Mother's meeting was held on June 30th. The program was in charge of the Superintendent, Mrs. B. F. Patr and the topic was "Obedience." The thoughts along that line were very helpful, and if more of the young mothers would attend these meetings they would find help in the training of their little ones. The program as outlined in a former issue of this paper, was carried out. Refreshments were not served on account of the illness of the chairman of that committee, but such a feast of reason was enjoyed that they were not missed, and after a short business session the Union adjourned with prayer.

Our Rest and Reading room was opened on Friday evening, July 3. The committee, with their assistants, are in charge each week day, and it is hoped that this new venture of the Union will meet with liberal patronage from all want a place to rest when weary, or a quiet place to read or wait. Writing material is also on hand and the best of reading matter. The committee will aim to serve the best of coffee, sandwiches and home-made pies. A cordial invitation is extended to all to avail themselves of the privileges of a long felt want in Newark.

Remember the Union meets every Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the First M. E. church.

There are between 30,000 and 400,000 acres of land in Wales under which the minerals belong to the crown.

HORSESHOE

Found Imbedded in the Skin of a Huge Carp Captured by a Columbus Citizen.

Columbus, O., July 10.—The first real fish story of the summer season is vouched for by O. L. Fogle, of North Columbus. Mr. Fogle holds the record for catching the largest carp ever pulled out of picturesque Olentangy this year. The fish weighed 27 pounds and was three feet and ten inches long. Fogle was fifteen minutes in landing the whopper.

And now comes the interesting part of the story. After Fogle had butchered the whale lake denizen of the shallow stream he was stunned when a slash of his knife turned up a large sized horseshoe. The shoe was imbedded under the heavy skin of the fish just back of the gills. It is presumed that while rooting around in the muddy bottom of some stream the fish pushed his head into the shoe and then could not withdraw it. Under the circumstances the shoe grew into the fish just as a spike is imbedded into a tree, and in the natural course of time the flesh of the fish wholly covered the horseshoe.

A Picnic With the College Jesters

"What did you do when Miss Kandila said she thought you were odd?"
"Told her I'd get even."—Cornell Widow.

Soph.—That was the cleanest game of ball I ever saw.
Junior.—What game?
Soph.—Why, the water polo match.—Columbia Jester.

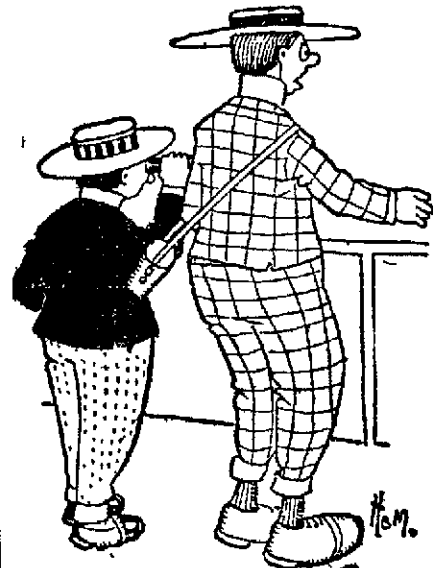

"Another tragedy," said the cynic as shrill shrieks arose from the ruined cistern. "I suppose there is a woman at the bottom of it."—Yale Record.

The Actor.—Yes, I am to recite Hamlet's soliloquy.
The Critic.—The audience ought to sympathize with you.
Actor.—How?
Critic.—Why, it'll be such hard lines for both of you.—Harvard Lampoon.

Long Winded Lover.—Ah me! And how can I show you all I have within my heart for you?
She (desperately bored).—Cut it out.—Yale Record.

Crusty Old Gent (to tramp).—What! Begging again? Didn't I give you a dime yesterday for a meal?
Tramp (sarcastically).—Yes, I know, gov'nor, but I overate, and I want to get some medicine for it.—Columbia Jester.

Explained.

"Jones told me that horse couldn't lose, and there he is running last!"
"I guess Jones was holding the dope sheet upside down when he figured that out."—New York Evening Journal.

The Sea Widow.

"What have you got all that green stuff on your head for?" inquired the first mermaid.
"Why, didn't you know of my husband's death?" replied the other.
"These are my widow's seaweeds."—Philadelphia Press.

No Good Effects Noticed.

She.—The milliner told me that she had been down to the dentist's to have a nerve killed.
He.—Well, from the prices she asks for hats I should say the dentist must have killed the wrong one.—Stray Stories.

His Talent.

"John Henry, I'll thrash you soundly if I ever catch you telling another story that isn't true."
"And yet, ma, I heard you say to the minister that I had great imagination."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Doubtful Consolation.

"I'm afraid," said Wilhelmina Washington, "that I lack self confidence."
"Cheer up," said Miss Cayenne. "Perhaps that fact indicates that you are a good judge of human nature."—Washington Star.

Curative Treatment.

"Your father used to say he couldn't afford the trouble and expense of keeping a pony for you. How did you cure him of that idea?"
"I just kept on nagging him."—Chicago Tribune.

Wouldn't Warm Up.

"It was really chilly on the porch last evening," she said.
"What was the matter?" asked her dearest friend. "Wouldn't he propose?"—Chicago Post.

Can't Always Draw a Prize.

Mrs. Quizzy.—Being an heiress, I presume you had your pick of the men?
Mrs. Blott.—Yes, and, I regret to say, I picked the wrong one.

ADA BLANDY'S LUCK

Court Awards Former Newark Girl More Alimony—
Stipend of $40 a Month Increased to $260
By Judge Dunne at Chicago.

The suit for divorce brought by Harold E. Thomas, son of the late General Samuel Thomas, the New York millionaire, the partial hearing of which interested society in Newark, Columbus, New York and Chicago a year ago, was brought up again in Judge Dunne's court in Chicago this week. Heated arguments were made by counsel on both sides and the squabble resulted in Mrs. Thomas, formerly Miss Ada Blandy of this city, being awarded an increase of $260 a month alimony, $330 additional suit money and $1,000 as temporary solicitors' fees. Prior to his father's death Thomas was required to pay his wife $40 a month alimony. In his father's will he was cut off with an income to be derived from $100,000 a year. An agreement was reached, however, whereby he received $400,000 in cash and an income of $33,000 a year.

Attorney William Burry presented these facts to Judge Dunne in support of his motion to have additional money paid to Mrs. Thomas. Attorney Clarence Darrow made strenuous objections to the suggestion that Mrs. Thomas be given between $750 and $1,000 a month.

"Before this woman married Thomas," declared Attorney Darrow, "she was the wife of his uncle, Dr. David Porter of Kansas City, who committed suicide. In seventeen days after her first husband's death she married Thomas who then did not have much money. Now that he has come into the possession of a large sum of money she wants a part of it. That she should be granted a reasonable allowance for support and the conduct of her case is conceded. But the court should take these facts into consideration: She has done nothing to accumulate the money she now has, and was not living with him at the time he became possessed of it."

"She has been living in moderate circumstances and why should she now be given an opportunity to have servants, butlers, carriages and similar things that tend to spoil people?"

"As I take it," said Judge Dunne, "a wife is entitled to share her husband's good fortune as well as his misfortune."

Attorney Darrow cited a number of cases in support of his side of the case and was answered by Attorney Burry. The case has been pending in the Cook county courts for some time and when partly tried in Judge Bishop's court over a year ago, the court dismissed the jury on the ground that it had been prejudiced.

It is expected that the case will be heard next fall. Charges of a sensational character were preferred by Thomas against his wife. She filed a cross-bill against him asking for separate maintenance. Thomas is in Wisconsin on a vacation trip at present.

WOODMEN

Are to Have a Picnic at Buckeye Lake
Next Thursday—Tickets Are Now on Sale.

Cedar Camp, 4727, Modern Woodmen of America, will hold a grand outing at Buckeye Lake on Thursday, July 18. The Woodmen and their friends will, of course, go on the Columbus, Buckeye Lake and Newark Traction line and the round trip tickets good on any car, will be sold at the low rate of 20 cents for the round trip. Tickets are for sale at the following places: Rutledge Bros, Mitchell, Van Alta, & Co., E. T. Collins, Haynes Bros, Fabler & Williams, and the Modern Woodmen office, in the Hibbert & Schaus block. Those purchasing electric car tickets as above, can go via the electric road to the picnic and will be furnished free tickets on the lake launches, free tickets for the dance at which Marsh's orchestra will furnish the music, and free tickets to all the games in Buckeye Lake park. Special attention will be given to the ladies and children and no effort will be spared to make the occasion a pleasant one for them. The Woodmen are noted for making a success of whatever they undertake and of having a good time wherever they go. Their picnic next Thursday will be no exception to this rule, and no one should fail to attend.

OVERDRAFT

Amounting to $140,000 Shown on Books of the City Clerk at Akron, Ohio.

Columbus, Ohio, July 10.—According to the report of Examiner Peter Mackenzie, of the State Bureau of Inspection and Supervision of Public Offices, the books of the City Clerk of Akron, show an overdraft of over $140,000 in special improvements funds. The Clerk is not charged with the overdraft, because Council failed to make proper provision in the tax levy for the city's portion of special improvements. The Examiner says this condition was called to the attention of Council and citizens of Akron early in May. The overdrafts for the year 1902 were 55 per cent in excess of the overdrafts of the year before.

The Examiner charges the Clerk, Charles H. Isbel, with $4,657.50, which was drawn from the treasury in December, 1902, for the payment of bonds due in the following January. The Clerk was in the habit of drawing amounts to pay maturing bonds and coupons from one to seven months before the bonds actually fell due. Mr. Isbel's only explanation was that he had as much right to the use of the money as the City Treasurer.

Examiner Mackenzie says it is almost impossible to check off payments by individuals assessed for special improvements, and that the strange custom of destroying bonds that were retired makes it impossible to check those accounts.

While the report is of a semi-sensational nature, the condition has been known since early in May.

Street Costume of Bluet Hopsack.
A stylish costume is an absolute necessity, and an evidence of good taste and workmanship is shown in a gown of bluet hopsack. This has a novel collar, which gives the long shouldered effect, and the strappings of which cross in front, and are completed with an ornament of pendants. Narrow plaits supply decoration, and all of the stitching a great deal of which appears on the bottom of the skirt, is done with Corticelli stitching silk of the same shade, size D. This silk comes on one-quarter ounce spools, and has generally been adopted by the best dressmakers, since it is just the right size and twist for stitching purposes.

The pouched or blouse front is fast being superseded by the deep corselet and long narrow buckle, suggesting the pointed stomacher, and many evening bodices show the pointed lower edge. Large floral patterns obtain for the thin gown for warm days, and a prodigious display of coarse lace set on white bobbinet and shirring will be the salient feature. The exaggerated long shoulders will be given by the deep lace collars of all descriptions and construction, and when these are not employed fichus daintily ruffled and frilled will replace them.
